Dear Grandparents,

I realize that it has been a good while since I last wrote but I hope you haven't become too discouraged waiting for a letter. Boy I sure was pleased to hear that Ben got to be at home. No one yet has told me much about what he had to say or what he has been doing. Maybe you can help me get some on that. As I remember it wasn't more than a couple of weeks after he was home last time before I got home. It looks as if things will be quite different this time. I am thankful for him to get back though. The Lord sure has given me a lot to be glad about even though it may be a good while before I do get home. I am getting mail pretty regularly now, I am still safe and have been blessed with extremely good health. Lately my work hasn't even been quite as strenuous as it was a month ago. Now the things coming down at the school house sure is flying by. Before we realize it, I guess, another school year will be gone. Let's keep praying that the mess will all be over soon. I am trusting in the Lord more every minute for my safety. It is always good to hear from you. Love,
Your Grandson,
Donald Zappa
